Are you looking for a home with peace and quiet in the midst of a forested area? Well pack your bags, this could be the one you've been waiting for. The home was built with the past couple years and has great curb appeal. Imagine sitting on the large covered porch listening to the birds and watching the wildlife walk right past your front door.

There is plenty of room for parking for all your family and friends to come visit you on your 1.8 acre, that feel so much bigger. If that is not enough to entice you, how about the really short drive to a public boat launch and seemingly never ending lakes to paddle around or boat around. Now is your chance before the summer gets away on you. Or why not move here full time and if you have kids there is a public school within minutes or join the growing homeschooling population that allows you to live and learn anywhere. Now is your chance. Thanks for checking out this home. (id:50245)
